From the President of SBWS

Hello SBWS Members! We finally made it to 2021, and although our expectations were high, much of life seems to be pretty much the same...

After being on your SBWS Board for several years, I look forward to serving as your incoming President and I look forward to continue working with this Board. I wish to thank Charlotte Moore, Jody Wiggins and Pat Woolley for their service and dedication to the Society as alternating Presidents-Pro-Tem during the past twelve months. I also wish to welcome two new members to the Board, Parrish Hirasaki as Exhibition Director and Linda Thompson as Treasurer.

We'll try to squeeze a little fun out of this year. Stay tuned! We have been working to change our upcoming meetings to Zoom format to be able to keep in contact with all of you. Since we feel it will be many more months before we can even consider actual meetings, we anticipate at least the first 2-3 general meetings in 2021 will be through Zoom. You will receive an email invite soon for our January 11th meeting. At this point many of us are somewhat familiar with Zoom, using it for families, art groups or work. If you are not and you need help, please let us know.

We are planning a Show and Tell section in our meeting. We would encourage you to show and discuss your current art project. If you would like to do so, please send a copy of your picture(s) to Louisa McHugh so she can share them on the screen while you discuss your work. Her email address is: louisac-mchugh@gmail.com. We would love to see what you are working on!

Although there is a new strain of the virus and we are all pretty much home-bound, we have hopes the vaccine will be available to most of us in the next month or so. Getting through the holidays and being able to receive the vaccine, maybe, just maybe, a little bit of normalcy will return and our cities can open up again.

Be safe and well. Hope to see you all at our January 11th Meeting!

Sylvia Smullen

Membership Benefits Continue

Despite of the restrictions imposed by the Covid-19 situation, SBWS general meetings will take place at the usual scheduled dates; however, they will be held virtually via ZOOM until such time when physical meetings will be deemed safe.

Board members are also making arrangements for virtual demonstrations for the meetings as well as planning virtual workshops with notable artists.*

As of now, it is expected that the 2021 SBWS Annual Juried Show will be held "in person" sometime in the fall, as it has been in the past.

* A 2-hour workshop with Don Andrews has been scheduled for February 24 from 10 to 12. Don is renowned for his watercolors, his videos and the books he's written, among other creations. Details of the workshop will be made available at a later date. Get to know him at www.donandrewsstudio.com

If any of you have wondered about the vector divider at the bottom of these pages, here's the scoop!

The image is formed by arranging the letters S B W S in Edwardian Script ITC

SBWS in the pattern shown.

There are four artists: There is the artist you think you are, the artist you wish you were, the artist you want others to think you are, and the artist that you are. If you spend too much time thinking about all this, you may never find out who the last one is!
